1. Your privacy

When you visit any website, that website may store or retrieve information about your browser, particularly in the form of cookies. This information may relate to you, your preferences, your device, or may be used to make the site work as you expect. This information does not usually identify you directly, but it allows you to receive more personalized Internet content. You can choose not to allow certain types of cookies. Click on the different category headings to learn more and change your default settings. However, you should be aware that blocking some cookies may affect your experience of the site and the services we can offer you.

2. Functionality-related cookies

These cookies ensure better functionality and customization of content such as videos and live chat. They can be set by us or by external providers whose services we have added to our site. Without enabling these cookies, some or all features may not work properly.

3. Performance-related cookies

These cookies allow us to determine the number of visits and traffic sources in order to measure and improve the performance of our site. They help us see which pages are the most and least popular and see how many visitors are moving around the site. All information collected by these cookies is aggregated and therefore anonymous. Without enabling these cookies, we will not know when you visited our site.

4. Cookies for targeting

These cookies are set by a number of social media services that we have added to the site to allow you to share our content with friends and networks. They can track your browsing on other sites and build a profile of your interests. This may affect the content and messages displayed on other websites you visit. Without enabling these cookies, you may not be able to use or see these sharing tools.

5. Necessary cookies

These cookies are necessary to ensure the functionality of the website and cannot be disabled in our systems. They are usually set only in response to actions taken by you that constitute a request related to the Services, such as setting privacy preferences, logging in or filling out forms. You can set your browser to block or warn you about such cookies, but in this case some parts of the site may not work.
